Kinner Kailash Shivling Trek

Mount Kinner Kailash (6050 Meters) is located in Kinnaur Valley of Himachal Pradesh. It is one of the 5 mountain peaks, is believed to be the abode of Lord Shiva. It is said that Lord Shiva regulated the universe from Mount Kinner Kailash. Earlier the Parikrama (Circumambulation) was of 200 kms, but now the route has been shortened. This region gives a wonderful introduction to the confluence of Hinduism and Buddhism. The temples of Baspa Valley in Kinnaur are fine examples of pagoda architecture with extraordinary wooden carvings. Kinnaur is a very traditional place and tribal customs and traditions still hold sway over most of it. In some of the more remote side valleys and villages, Shamanism is still practised along with animistic rituals. It is said that Lord Shiva conducts a meeting of all Devi-Devtas on Kinner Kailash Top in the month of January.

The trekking to Kinner Kailash starts from July end to August. Kinnaur invariably leaves an indelible impact on the travelers because of its unmistakable and intense spiritual aura and palpable Himalayan mysticism. For this is the land where Lord Shiva is believed to reside on the famed Mount Kinner Kailash, considered to be one of his favorite haunts. Kinner Kailash Parikrama trek is also known as Charang Pass / Lalanti Pass. Trek takes us to Kinnaur, Charang Pass trek is a high altitude trek in the Kinnaur valley. The land of fairy tales and fantasies. It has a spectacular terrain of lush green valleys, orchards, vineyards, snow-clad peaks and cold desert mountains. The district of Himachal Pradesh, Kinnaur is also rich in flora & fauna and its culture and language is different from other parts of the state.

The Kinner Shivling trek is a different trek from Kinner Kailash Parikrama Trek. This route directly goes to Kinner Shila (Shivling) at the top of the peak. The trek route is quite tough and needs a fully physical fitness level. En route it is difficult to find camping spaces for a bigger group. It is advised that don't try this trek without an experienced guide.

Route Grade:- Medium gradients. Steep incline trek going through rocky moraine paths. People with no or less high altitude trekking experience should not attempt this trek.

Note:- Anna Adventures will bring maximum a group size of 10 persons in one time as in trek route camp sites are very less and water resources are very rare.
